

Name: PAUL J. DONNELLY FAIA, PE, LEED, A P

Courses Taught (beginning Fall 2016)

TSM 2002A Integrated Building Systems

Educational Credentials:

Bachelor of Architecture, Boston Architectural College

Master of Science, Engineering Mechanics, Columbia University Graduate Studies/Research Fellowship, McGill University

Bachelor of Science, Structural Engineering, Northeastern University

Teaching Experience:

Professor of Architecture – Rebecca & John Voyles Chair, Washington University in St. Louis 1996-2016

Visiting Professor & Researcher, Delft Technical University, Netherlands 02/2012 – 08/2012

- Visiting Professor & Scholar, MIT, Department of Architecture & Planning 2002-2003
- Visiting Associate Professor, MIT, Department of Architecture 1995-1996
- Visiting Lecturer, MIT, Department of Architecture, 1994
- Roger Williams University, Professor of Architecture 1991-1996, Faculty 1985-1996

Professional Experience:

Paul J. Donnelly Architecture + Engineering LLC, Design Principal 2012- Present

Paul J. Donnelly Architects, Boston, MA 1985-2000

HOK Architecture & Planning, St. Louis

VP / Senior Project Architect / Architect for Advanced Technologies 2004-2012

Goody Clancy & Associates, Consulting Architect 2000-2004

Licenses/ Registrations:

NCARB Certified Architect

Registered Architect, Massachusetts & Florida Registered

Professional Engineer, Massachusetts LEED Accredited Professional

Selected Publications and Recent Research:

- “Reducing Energy Demand in Commercial Buildings: Balancing Convection and Radiant Cooling” – Donnelly, P., Agarwal, R., Tuncer, I.
 - Proc. of McDonnell Academy’s 3rd International Symposium on Energy and the Environment
 - P. Biswas ed. Pages 11-22 October, 2010
- Moscow Hotel – Sung Ho Kim and Paul J. Donnelly
 - Spatial Practice, Axi:0me
 - Architects: ORO edition 2009
- “PCM Membranes in Architectural Enclosures” – Donnelly, P., Becker, R., Fedorko, D., (Principal Investigator)
 - Proc. of McDonnell Academy’s 3rd International Symposium on Energy and the Environment
 - P. Biswas ed. Pages 130-131, 2008
- “American Beauty” – Peter MacKeith and Paul Donnelly (Co-Authors)
 - The Architects’ Journal, 2002, London, UK – June Edition

Professional Memberships:

American Institute of Architects, AIA College of Fellows, BSA, American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE), BSCE