

Name: James Moses, AIA, LEED AP

Courses Taught (beginning Fall 1998):

CD7102 C2 Studio
CD101 C1 Studio

Educational Credentials:

AB., Princeton University, 1988
M.Arch, University of Texas at Austin, 1993

Teaching Experience:

Visiting Professor, Catholic University
Summer Institute of Architecture, 1994

Visiting Professor, Roger Williams University, 2009

Instructor, Boston Architectural College, 1998-2009

Member of the Faculty, Boston Architectural College, 2009-present

Professional Experience

Director, Sasaki Associates, Watertown, Massachusetts, 2006-present

Senior Architect, William Wilson Associated Architects,
Boston, Massachusetts, 1995-2006

Intern, Shalom Baranes Associates,
Washington, District of Columbia, 1994-1995

Intern, Buttrick White and Burtis, New York, New York, 1992

Intern, Beery Rio and Associates, Annandale, Virginia, 1991

Intern, Shalom Baranes Associates,
Washington, District of Columbia, 1989-1990

Licenses/Registration

Massachusetts; Vermont (inactive); NCARB Certificate

Selected Publications and Recent Research

- Lab Design, "A Zero Net Energy Teaching Lab", 12/8/14
- School Construction News, "Bristol Community College to Debut Net-Zero Facility", 1/21/2016
- South Coast Almanac, "Bristol Community College's Cutting Edge Design", 7/14/2016
- College Planning & Management, "Zero Net Energy, Zero Added Cost", 10/1/2016
- Prism, "New England's first Zero Net Energy academic lab science building", 10/12/2016
- Tradeline, "John J. Sbraga Health and Science Building", 11/16/2016
- Building Design + Construction, "A Massachusetts college now features the largest zero-net-energy academic building in Northeast", 12/13/2016
- Prism, "Zero Net Energy: A Q&A with Sasaki's Jim Moses, AIA, LEED AP", 12/21/2016

Professional Memberships

American Institute of Architects; DoCoMoMo; NESEA; ACSA