SUMMER ACADEMY OPEN HOUSE & COLLEGE ADMISSIONS PORTFOLIO REVIEW

Are you interested in furthering your education this summer? Are you working on your portfolio for college admissions? Come to the Boston Architectural College’s Open House and Review.

SUMMER ACADEMY OPEN HOUSE

Summer Academy capitalizes on Boston as an urban laboratory to explore and develop fundamental skills and highlight the role quality design plays in shaping and improving the communities in which we live. Our month-long series of studios focuses on building design and critical thinking skills including drawing, collage, photography, model-making, and mapping of complex systems. You’ll work with new materials and discover new ways of imagining the world around us.

COLLEGE ADMISSIONS PORTFOLIO REVIEW

For those interested in applying to academic disciplines that require the submission of a portfolio, the Boston Architectural College will be holding a brief discussion on techniques that can help make your portfolio stand out and better represent you as an artist and individual. If you bring your portfolio with you, we will work individually to help you to organize and edit it for strength of presentation.

Space is limited. Please RSVP to Henry Miller at henry.miller@the-bac.edu
